"The Welcome Table"

Rev. John Gibb Millspaugh, Guest Minister

9:15 and 11:00 AM

In a service featuring magic, humor, personal stories, and two statistics, the chair of the UUA President's Advisory Committee on Food (!) brings a message of inspiration and inclusion to our congregation. Food matters for personal, public, and planetary well-being. What food adventure are you up for? Music: 9:15 AM Molly Smith, Vocalist; 11:00 AM UUCR Choir

John Gibb Millspaugh is Co-Minister of the Winchester Unitarian Society, where he serves with his spouse and co-minister Sarah Gibb Millspaugh, with whom he parents their four-month old son. As a 2001 graduate of Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government and Harvard Divinity School, justice concerns are central to his ministry; he served for three years as the UUA President's Assistant for Social Justice, focusing on such areas as women's rights, nuclear proliferation, and modern slavery. He currently serves as a consultant and coach to clergy and laypeople on "Adaptive Leadership," as Faith Community Representative on the Town of Winchester's Climate Action Task Force, and as Chair of the UUA President's Advisory Committee on "Ethical Eating: Food and Environmental Justice." He is editor of the 2009 book on UU theologies and ministries of justice, A People So Bold. He is an avid hiker, a not-so-disciplined meditator, a self-taught and thoroughly mediocre guitar player, and a skilled magician.

"Welcome Home"

Tony Fisher

9:15 AM Service Only

To many of us who call UUCR our spiritual home, immigration may feel like a political hot potato being played out in other, more distant places. Yet, concerns over immigration rights touch on many of the core principles we espouse as Unitarian Universalists. Hoping to bring the conversation closer to home, Tony Fisher will explore the human side of a divisive issue. Music: Joan Marshman, vocalist.

"Coming of Age"

Meg Soens, Acting Minister; Anne Principe, Interim Director of Faith Development and Coming of Age Program Youth

11:00 AM Only

Our Unitarian Universalist community has a long commitment to the journey of youth to articulate what they have given their heart to. This ceremony culminates years of faith development explorations, experiential learning, peer and mentor spiritual discussion with youth sharing credos of personal expressions for their congregation. Music: The UUCR Choir.

Join Us on Sunday, April 22, at 1:30 PM - Gospel Mass

On Sunday, April 22 at 1:30 PM, the choir at UUCR will perform Robert Ray's Gospel Mass for the general public. The Gospel Mass revitalizes the 2000 year liturgy of the Catholic Church in a contemporary, gospel style setting. The gospel style is, at once, vital, boisterous and joyful and incorporates the tradition of African American musical culture in an easy, soulful manner. Come hear the UUCR choir and soloists joined by Alex Gordon, keyboard, Aaron Clark, electric bass, and David Gould, drums perform this marvelous work! Admission is free to all!

Robert Ray's Gospel Mass, composed in 1978, was premiered at the University of Illinois and performed by the University's Black Chorus. This work was written while Ray was a liturgy team leader for the National Office of Black Catholics. The Gospel Mass was created out of a need from these workshops.

The composer states: "It is my desire to combine centuries of old traditions of Mass settings with sounds of the contemporary Black Church. The move from Latin to English created new opportunities for composers to express their feelings about the texts of the Ordinary of the Mass. I wanted everyone to experience the sense of joy and celebration that is generally felt in true African-American worship".

President's Messages - Marketing Team

There are so many wonderful events going on here at UUCR! Last week's newsletter was packed with details about everything from a Gospel Mass to a Pride March to an afternoon "Following Our Callings" workshop.

In order to let the wider world know about our spiritual community and to draw in those who could find a home here, the Governing Board identified the need for a Marketing Team. Last fall, Christine Lusk, at-Large board member, led a Marketing Kick-off dinner to gather together those interested in and knowledgeable about marketing issues in order to formulate a Marketing Team and consulting resources for them from within our congregation. From that meeting, an energetic and enthusiastic marketing team has formed, consisting of Christine, Jules Collins, Shanna Weston, Meg Soens, our Acting Minister, and myself. The group has met several times throughout the winter to narrow in on a population to target with marketing and to identify appropriate communication modes for that population. The group is ready to start its first pilot campaign aimed at local families with young children and has compiled a list of outreach avenues including area newspapers and online event bulletin boards.

Although the group's focus is marketing, there currently exists no Public Relation Team at our church. In order to assist with PR efforts, the Marketing Team plans to create a resource page on our website for any group to use to outreach for events. Additionally, the Marketing Team has offered to publicize events using the tools they have compiled.

If you would like to have an event that you would like to have publicized, if you know of an additional outreach avenue not listed or if you are interested in the Marketing or Public Relations Team, click here to send an email.

Kris Kringle Fair

Kris Kringle Fair Changes Ahead!

Please note that there have been some significant changes to our traditional fall fair structure. After much contemplation and creative thinking, we have had to make a change that will hopefully benefit UUCR's budget and will create a safer environment for our fair(s).

Starting this November (2012) we will have our usual annual Kris Kringle Fair (on Saturday, Nov. 10) and we will also begin having an annual Spring Fling fair in the spring of 2013 (date to be announced). The Spring Fling will be timed so that it is a distance from the Auction/Soiree that typically happens in late January or early February. The Nov fair will be a little different in that some of the customary tables/areas will not occur in Nov. but will be moved to the spring event. But please note that all tables that are fall/winter seasonal will be kept in the fall fair. The spring fair will feature Attic Treasures, Used Books, a food cafe, probably a recurrence of the Baked Goods Table, and several other tables, including the resurrection of the old Plants Table.

The decision to make these changes was based upon several factors, but mainly upon the following three reasons:

Our fair has grown so large that we have outgrown our available campus space and we were inadvertently causing some safety issues with our overcrowding - crowding rooms/hallways and blocking fire exits. Those who coordinated the various tables had difficulty effectively displaying their wares because the space was so limited. Spreading out our fair offerings to two annual fairs will help us use our space more effectively, both for safety issues and for better display space.

Because we needed the space, we were disrupting our sanctuary by unscrewing and moving pews. This practice causes damage to our new flooring and puts undue stress on our aging pews, (not to mention on our aging set-up and clean-up crew members!) The new "two fair" structure will eliminate the need to move/remove pews in the sanctuary.

Historically, in the years when we have had two fairs, for various reasons, we have always generated more income than we do when we only have the fall fair.

As the only remaining K K Fair Chairperson, I consulted the retired fair chair people and some other leaders in the church. I then brought my decision to the Governing Board, along with my research and facts, for their approval. They wholeheartedly approved my decision.

Hopefully, there will be two different teams of leaders for the two fairs. Currently, for the Kris Kringle Fair, the co-chairs are myself and Shanna Weston (Thank you for stepping up, Shanna!). We are in serious need of two more people who would be willing to help us coordinate the K K Fair this fall and then allow me to step down from the leadership position after that. We will also be seeking a leadership team for the 2013 Spring Fling fair.

There will soon be an announcement about a planning meeting so we can make final decisions about which tables/areas will appear at which fair and how to optimize our available space. We hope that you will join us at that planning meeting if you customarily chair a table/service/area at the fair or even if you just have a vested interest in the fair. We value your input. Please watch for the announcement of that meeting, which will likely happen in early May.

If you have good leadership skills and enjoy working with people, please contact Sharyn Taitz or Shanna Weston to volunteer to join our management team. Since our fair income is the second largest source of income next to the annual pledges, it's very important that we get this leadership team in place now.

Thank you sincerely,
Sharyn Taitz, co-chair of the Kris Kringle Fair

Organic Fair Trade Coffee & Chocolate Return to UUCR 4/22

Starting Sunday, April 22, you can once again buy organic, fair-trade coffee and chocolate bars at coffee hours! Buying Equal Exchange chocolate and coffee at church is good because They taste great.

Proceeds from the sale will support another year of high school for our church's partner Unitarian student in the Philippines, Gerry. (If you haven't "met" Gerry yet, please come to the table at coffee hour to see his picture and learn his story.)

If your 40/40/42 pledge is "If you enjoy chocolate, coffee, or tea, buy only Fair Trade sources for 40 days" (see elsewhere in this newsletter)--this is your chance to stock up!

Buying organic chocolate and coffee benefits the earth not just on Earth Day but every day.

Members of the Partner Church Committee look forward to talking with you at the sale table. To order coffee if you won't be in church, contact Ann Mottl (ahmottl@verizon.net).

From Equal Exchange: "The premium fairly traded organic cacao in our chocolate bars is grown by small farmers organized into co-operatives in the Dominican Republic, Panama, Peru, and Ecuador. The organic sugar and organic vanilla are both fairly traded. The sugar comes from small farmer co-operatives in Paraguay, while the vanilla is grown by a farmer association in Madagascar. Enjoy!"

Running for Your Rights: UUCR Marathon Runner Supports UUSC

From Mark Cronin-Golomb: I am excited that I will be participating in the 116th running of the Boston Marathon on behalf of the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee (UUSC) on April 16, 2012. This is my second year running the marathon, and my first year running in support of UUSC!

UUSC is a human-rights and social-justice organization working in more than 20 countries around the world, including right here in the United States. To learn more about this organization and its vital work, visit uus.org. I am sure you will see why I have chosen to support this wonderful cause.

I have a fundraising goal of $ 2,500. If just 25 people support me at $ 100 each, I will meet my goal! And if you donate $ 100 or more, I will list your name on the back of my marathon shirt as a mile sponsor. Of course, your contribution of any amount will be greatly appreciated.

To support me, please visit

<http://www.crowdrise.com/runforjustice/fundraiser/markcroningolomb>

and make your gift today. Or if you prefer, you can give me cash or a check made out to UUSC.

Consider your sponsorship a proxy for running the Boston Marathon. I will run the 26.2 miles, suffer the blisters and the anguish of Heartbreak Hill, and you get to provide compassionate support to the people being oppressed around the world. That's a pretty good deal!

Thanks in advance for your support.

Sincerely,

Mark

The Food Drive Continues: April 22, 29

We're at 77 pounds of food donated so far, and counting! Thanks to those who brought food on April 1, 8, and 15.

UUCR is hosting a Spring Food Drive for the Reading Food Pantry. There will be a large box at each of our sanctuary entrances on April 22, and 29, to receive donations of paper goods and nonperishable foods for those in our church's community who rely on the pantry.

This event is being coordinated by Gathering Change, Inc., a local 501c3 nonprofit organization that raises awareness and funds for food pantries. Once again, GCI has partnered with the Feinstein Foundation's Million Giveaway to Fight Hunger. The Feinstein Foundation, based in Cranston, RI, will match a percentage of every pound of food or dollar collected in the months of March and April by participating organizations. This is an opportunity to increase the funds we can pass on to the Reading pantry.

Monetary donations are also welcome!

For more information, call Judy Bousquin at 781-438-8960 or check out the websites www.gatheringchangeinc.org and www.feinsteinfoundation.org. Thank you for your support!

The Social Action Team and Rev. Meg invite and encourage everyone -- young and old and in-between -- to join in the annual Mother's Day Walk for Peace on Sunday, May 13, to benefit and support the Louis D. Brown Peace Institute in Dorchester.

Hundreds of people walking side by side 3.5 miles through Dorchester: urban and suburban; young and old; those for whom neighborhood violence is far away, and those for whom it is all too near, having torn their families apart; raising voices in affirmation and hope...This is the Peace Institute's Mother's Day Walk for Peace, which raises awareness and much-needed money for the Institute's programs and services:

- peace education curriculum for elementary, middle, and high school students
- crisis management for families impacted by violence
- Survivors Leadership Academy
- training for professionals dealing with families impacted by violence

From Ben Wakeman, Take Me To the Bridge:

There are few contemporary songwriters that come anywhere close to the talent of John Gorka. His songs have a way of working on you long after you thought you had it all figured out. I will listen to a song that I know all the words to and can sing along with and then one day sitting at a traffic light I realize that there was a whole other layer of meaning that I had missed.

In 1984 John Gorka won the prestigious Kerrville New Folk competition. He has over ten albums to his credit. John is a songwriter's songwriter and his songs are championed by an amazing circle of artists including Nanci Griffith, Mary Chapin Carpenter, David Wilcox and many more.

Musically speaking, the Heatons play the heck out of their instruments (Irish wood flute/accordion, guitar/bouzouki). After years of study in Chicago, and many nights of music in Clare, Galway, and their adopted home of Boston, Irish Music Magazine's John O'Regan wrote, "their duet playing is tight, sweet, and tasteful, lacking nothing on either technical expertise or instrumental virtuosity."

As for their singing, when Matt and Shannon perform centuries-old songs, it feels current, conversational. They make traditional music relevant to American audiences. O'Regan wrote "songwise [there are] hints an older domestic sound, the familiar down home harmonies of The Carter Family and Tim and Mollie O'Brien."
